

Tremendous Time

This challenge is for the whole school.

Think about how long one minute is.

Think of some activities you could do in one minute (writing your name in your best writing, building a tall tower out of blocks, hopping on the spot...). You will need to get someone to time the one minute for you so that you know when to start and when your minute is up.

Before you try each activity guess (estimate) how many of each thing you will be able to do in a minute and then have a go to see if you are right.

For example:

I think I could write my first name neatly 20 times in one minute.

I had a go and I was able to write my name 24 times which was 4 more than I had expected.

What activities will you try? Be as creative as you like. I'm looking forward to seeing the activities you try.
