

Reading Choice Task Grid

Here is a grid of ideas/activities for you to try out when reading at home. Have fun with them ☺

Write a diary entry as one of the characters in a book you are reading, what are they doing? How are they feeling and why?	Draw a new front cover for one of your favourite books make it eye catching and relatable to the story	Design an outfit you think one of the characters would like to wear, label it if you can	Write a book review about the last book you read - did you like or dislike it? Why? Who would you recommend it to?	You are hiring a character from the book you are reading. Can you create a job application poster?
Create an estate agent poster for a setting in the story really try to sell it. Use Powerful language to do this.	Create a new hero in a book - draw a picture, write key words - what is the hero like?	Identify at least 5 unfamiliar words in the text and find out their meaning	Write a letter to your favourite character of a book - why do you like them? What would you ask them?	Paint a picture of your favourite setting of a story
Choose a character from your book - if you could give them a gift, what would it be and why?	Change the problem that happens in the story - hook the reader make it interesting!	Write a letter to your favourite author	Go on a synonym hunt of your favourite book could you make any of the words more powerful!	Change the setting of the book you are reading - where else could it be? What does it look like? How would you describe it?
Identify any words or phrases from a story you love - could you use them in your own story?	Create a fact file all about your favourite author	Write down 10 words you think best describe a story that you have read	Create a new villain for your story - draw a picture, describe and label them - why are they so bad?	Write down 5 questions that you could answer about the story.

